

Pro Bono Publico.

There are, in all localities, a class of people who seem to think that everything was created for their special benefit, and that they are not expected to share any of the burdens and responsibilities of a public nature. To make a town or community prosper, the citizens thereof must work together for the public good, and he who is so selfish, so mean as to refuse to contribute his quota for the general good; but ready to avail himself of the advantages, and gather the fruits of other men's labors, is unworthy the name of a man. His soul is so little, that if placed in the hollow of a mustard seed, filled with water, and allowing it to expand as fast in proportion to size as a locomotive can run on a railroad, it would take that soul a thousand years to swim across the diameter of that mustard seed. Hartford has whole-souled, public spirited men, but not quite enough of them, and we are sorry to admit, she has several of that class who are developed and placed in reach by the enterprise of others. We had rather be a Carrion Crow, and subsist on the ravages of an internecine war in our own land, than to feel that we have never assisted in promoting the prosperity and public welfare of the community in which we lived. Everybody should become interested and labor for the good and prosperity of his section of country, for by so doing he promotes his own interests as well as that of his neighbors. Those who do nothing for the public good should surely expect no favors from the public, and ought not to receive any. They ought to be allowed to remain in their little shell of selfishness all alone, and patriotic, philanthropic men ought not to intrude upon them in a business way at least. We have no one in view in particular, and surely intend toward no body; but, if our town is ever to be anything, every man in it ought to see that hereafter at least he is not one of the class wanting in public enterprise.

The only regret we have in not being chosen a member of the next Legislature is, that we wanted to pass a law making it a felony for a man to be ever and eternally croaking about hard times. See a man from any part of the county, and ask him the news, and with an elongated countenance and a creaking voice, he responds—"Hard times, and was a comin'." Long faces, peevish grumblings and gloomy brows make hard times. This everlasting cant about hard times, and foreboding of evil for the future, makes times harder than they otherwise would be. It causes the miser to clutch his purse strings tighter, and it prevents the timid from putting into circulation money that otherwise would be changing hands, and renders business stagnant that would otherwise have an air of prosperity.

Give us men of cheerful, hopeful natures, with confidence in their own strong arms, and times will improve at once. Away with the croaker, ridicule him out of your community. Load your shot guns with cheerfulness, put on a cap of hopefulness, pull the trigger of energy, and give those chronic hard times a broad side that will wake them up and open their eyes that they may see aright. To conclude, the man who is continually murmuring "hard times," is an enemy to the prosperity and welfare of the community where he is allowed to exist—not live, for such an one has not a sufficient idea of life to know what living is, he merely exists.

Hon. Lytleton Cook.

Hon. Lytleton Cook, one of the Representatives elect from the city of Louisville, has large experience as a legislator; is a man of high culture and possessed of a thorough knowledge of parliamentary law; a gentleman of the genuine type, and is a scholarly, earnest, and life-long Democrat true and tried. In a word, he has all the qualities of head and heart so necessary to a successful legislator. And amongst the many eminent gentlemen elected to the Kentucky Legislature, which is to meet first of January, no one is better equipped to provide over and dispatch the business of that honorable body than Lytleton Cook, and we take pleasure in suggesting his name for that highly responsible position.

We clip the above deserved compliment to Hon. Lytleton Cook from the Glasgow Times, and heartily endorse all that it contains. Among the members elect to the next House of Representatives, we know of no one better fitted by nature and education to preside over that body than the gentleman whose name heads this article. He has every quality of heart and brain to insure popularity, and we would select him as pre-eminently the man at this crisis to grace with ability this honorable position, and we know with his vast fund of parliamentary knowledge and practical good sense, that his rulings would be based upon justice and equality, and that no other selection would give greater satisfaction to the majority of the Kentucky Democracy.

The Prospect for the Democrats to Control the Next Senate

[Washington Observer.]

Senator Patterson, of South Carolina, one of the gang of carpet bag thieves, has come to grief at last. He has been indicted by the courts, which places him between two fires. If he goes back to stand his trial he has a fair prospect to serve the State in the penitentiary, instead of the Senate, if he refuses to go, he will have to stand investigation by a Congressional committee, with a good show of being bounced out of the Senate. The chances are between the two that the country will be rid of a thief, and the State be misrepresented will have a chance to elect a citizen of her own to represent her, instead of importing such cattle as him from the slums of some northern State, to plunder her coffers and blacken her fair name.

The planet Mars has two moons, according to the late discoveries of Dr. Draper and Professor Holden. Dark figments surely never met the happiness of lovers on that delightful night, in which they always have moon-light nights in which to promenade and breathe sweet words of love.

Mr. John Dunsmuir, formerly editor of the Farmer's Home Journal, has accepted a position as agricultural editor of the Daily Courier Journal. He is a man well fitted for this position. He will also commence the publication of a monthly on the 1st of October, the title of which will be "Farmer's Magazine."

We can very plainly see Ziba's tracks all over the "Railway Mail." In fact, we could tell that he was about "that" even if we did not know he was connected with it. You'd better reckon it's a spicy little sheet, published at No. 80, Fifth street, Louisville.

Bottom Rail Getting on Top.

California went Democratic last Tuesday, and chose a Legislature that will be Democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 38. This is another Democratic United States Senator secured.

The following is the official vote of the State for State Treasurer at the August election: James W. Tate, (Dem.) 96,824; S. F. Traub, (Ind.) 21,018. Tate's majority, 75,806.

The Louisville Exposition opened last week under very favorable prospects. The general feeling is that it will far exceed in interest any of the preceding exhibitions held in Louisville.

The Henderson Reporter has "put on" city airs and sent out a supplement with the last issue. That office must be doing a Banking business.

Brigham Young, the much married President of the Latter Day Saints, is dead. He was getting quite old; but, strange to say, the large number of wives made widows by his demise, each and every one of them are Young widows.

Brigham Young, the Mormon leader, died on the 29th inst. He was born at Whitingham, Vermont, June 1st, 1801, and has been President of the Mormon church since the death of Josiah Smith in 1844.

Why don't somebody start the Murphy movement in Hartford? "Pit," where are you, that you do not help your name-ake, Francis, in his great enterprise by building one of his Societies here?

The Keely motor is about to prove a success after all. A very successful public test was given at Philadelphia recently.

The working men of Louisville repudiate Blanton Duncan as a leader and his paper as an organ.

Brigham Young was the father of fifty-six children, and left seventeen wives, sixteen sons, and twenty-eight daughters.

"Had have," is the way the Winchester Chronicle puts it.

Attention Merchants.

Warren S. Pate, the popular and liberal salesman of the great clothing house of Stix, Kruse & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, has opened out a complete line of samples of clothing of every variety at the Louisville Hotel, and will remain thirty days. Because of my ability to sell cheaper than clothing merchants of Louisville, and in consequence of having had remarkable success in selling in Louisville by sample, a tax of 200 dollars has been imposed upon me for the privilege of selling there thus thinking to shut me out, and force merchants to buy of Louisville men, but, rest assured, I will be on hand and sell goods cheaper than ever before, and I call on all my old customers to stand by me, and solicit the favors of as many new ones as may see this advertisement. I will be there during the entire month of September and part of October, and will sell, I have to sell at or below cost. Do not fail to look at my line of samples, as it costs you nothing, and you will thereby see for yourselves whether I am not able to sell you better goods for less money than you can get elsewhere. Remember the place—Louisville Hotel.

W. S. PATE.
With Stix, Kruse & Co.

WANTED—To exchange a first class $70 Sewing Machine for a good $50 horse.
J. S. VAUGHN.

Rockport Times.

The handle factory is not a thing merely on paper, but a reality actually here and running. Can hear the buzz of the saws all day long.

Mr. T. Bentley will shortly move his stock of dry goods from Nelson Creek Station to this place, and start business in the house formerly occupied by W. A. Bentley.

Mr. J. Kahn will open up a heavy stock of goods in Greenville about the 25th of September. His stock here will be closed out regardless of cost.

Miss Mattie Harris, of Muhlenberg county, is here, visiting her sister Mrs. Dr. Brown.

Our school is going on. Mr. Harper, teacher, assisted by his wife. There is a good attendance, and great interest manifested by both teachers and pupils.

Mr. H. J. Young has bought a lot in this place from Mr. Anderson, of Cavalry 32x135 feet for $200. Can any of our neighboring towns beat this sale these hard times? I can tell you it is a building a brick store house. I hope more of us will awake from our tip Vain Winkle sleep, and build homes like we intended to stay here and make a town.

There is said to be a pauper in the vicinity of the Richmond Mines. It has been seen by several citizens, and shot at once. Mr. Thad. Baker has been over with his dogs, but they refuse to run it, and as there is no fun to him in a hunt without his hounds "let out," he left in disgust.

Jim Barrett assaulted Ben Gary a few days ago, in the bottom above town, and clubbed him pretty severely over the head. Barrett was arrested and fined $5.

I regret to inform you that James Torrence, of this place, died September 6, at 2 o'clock, after a long illness. He has passed peacefully and calmly away. Faded as fades the leaf. All who knew him loved him. He has left abundant testimony of the power of redeeming love.

TAMER.

Wilson's Mills.

Editor Herald:

We hear reports from every quarter of much sickness. We are happy to chronicle the fact that the same is not true with regard to this neighborhood; neither are we bothered with that pest, the hog cholera as yet, and from present indications we may calculate on pretty plenty of hog and hominy for another year at least.

Our people are generally industrious, sober, genial, hospitable, peaceable, and we might add upon the whole, a church going people. Rev. Jos. Bennett, of the Caneyville circuit, preached at New Bayms on the first Sunday in this month, (which is his regular day here) to a large and appreciative audience. Subject: Faith, Hope, and Charity. The subject might be said to be old, yet it was very interesting.

You may write about your beauties from Flaynesville or elsewhere, but if you will just come over to New Bayms, on meeting day, you will simply be dumfounded, if you are any judge of beauty. The Misses Acton, Misses Bennett the Misses Wedon are beauties rare to be found. Miss Mary Hale Wedding is undoubtedly the queen beauty of all this Green river country. But we are running away. However, it is a true saying that out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh, although such writing is not expected of L. N. QUINN.

Agricultural Notes.

The following sensible article on this subject is so practical and pointed and true, that we clip it from the columns of the Yeoman and offer it as our own sentiment in stronger and more terse language than we can express it.

Among the great auxiliaries to the development of a country, a chief agency is found in the annual fair. Nothing contributes more to the social and physical strength of a community, than the annual fair invited by these periods. The exhibits of products of the soil, of live stock, and of articles of manufacture, are all calculated to encourage investments, labor, and genius. The success of one man in any particular branch of industry is sure to impel another man to greater exertion, and society at large becomes the beneficiary. Experience, which is by far the best teacher, has shown that in sections of the country where these fairs have been held for any length of time, the farms are more productive, the farmers more prosperous, the breeds of stock finer, mechanics more active, and every branch of industry and art in better condition, than in sections where such annual meetings are not held.

It not only educates, refines, and improves a people in all other respects, but it is sure to enrich them pecuniarily. People never appreciate the advantages of their surroundings until this process of development begins, and the avenues of advancement and profit are laid bare to them. Emulation is the principal agency by which a country becomes either poor or prosperous. Examples of industry or indolence are alike to be followed, and few persons in any community. One good man who thrives by his own exertion, and who manifests any public spirit, is apt to stimulate his whole neighborhood, and becomes the foundation of its success.

We favor the support of every fair in the state, and we hope that instead of decreasing in number, as they have been doing, it will appear to the advantage of every county to hold an annual exhibition of its industries and products.

Hot! for the Exposition.

The Paducah and Elizabethtown Rail Road Company will sell round trip tickets at Beaver Dam on Mondays and Wednesdays for $7.75. The Monday's tickets good to return on until Saturday, and the Wednesday's tickets good until the next Monday. They will sell round trip tickets to Cecil Junction every day at $4.95, good for ten days. Tickets sold at other offices at corresponding prices. Now is your chance to go cheap.

Ladies' and gent's hats, latest styles, at HARDWICK & NALL'S.

A Dream.

BY HENRI.

"I slept and dreamed that life was beauty. I woke and found that life was duty."

Being weary in body and mind, I threw myself upon my couch and soon Morpheus threw his fascinating charms about me and swiftly bore me to the land of visions.

I beheld life arrayed in all its beauty as the misty veils of the future seemed drawn aside.

I saw many persons wandering o'er the broad fields of space, trying to gather in from "Flora's jeweled basket" the richest gems—joy and gladness.

Youthful buoyancy in the horizon of life, is ever tinged with golden dreams of beauty; fancy paints upon the canvases of futurity, glowing colors—but alas, how often it is, they are never realized!

I saw myriads of radiant beings, fair brow, beauty and happiness beamed from their countenances, and it seemed as if every thought was pure and heavenly. I dreamed that if their fond hopes were realized, they would glide o'er the arena of life like the gentle moon beams, shedding rays of love, kindness, and beauty on all surrounding objects.

There was in the happy company I saw those of all ages, the innocent children as well as those of mature life. It seemed to me that the "Pearly Gates" would indeed be thrown open to their entrance to Heaven. Sweet zephyrs of every clime played upon each leaflet of nature, and flowers diffusing sweet odors bled idly to the soft music of the murmuring fountains. The rays of the bright rising sun penetrated through the casement still damp with Lunar dewy tears and awoke me to find that all was a dream; and I heard a "still small voice" echoing through the dim aisles of the past: "Human pilgrimage is not a dream." Life is real as well as earnest, but we should realize that we are travelers on the sands of time, and that life has duty as well as beauty, and that jewels were not made to be concealed in the casement forever. It is an undeniable fact, that without the performances of our important duties, we will neither have wealth, fame, nor honor. The battle of life has to be fought, and if not courageous and armed, to proceed forward, our names will never be enrolled upon the records of times honored chronicles. We can not live by inaction, Newton, who wrote his name among the stars, did not. Washington was a man of action or he would never have liberated his country from the chains of oppression.

It will not do for us to imagine that our pathway through life will be a smooth and flowery road, if we do, we will find in the journey that we often rise to mountain tops and again descend into the valley. Our life is like the heathens say studded o'er with stony gear, but before we have time to admire it, a flash from heaven's artillery covers the blue concave. The cup of joy is mixed with sorrow all along the stream of human life.

Thus it was that I dreamed in youth that life was beauty, but I awoke in mature life and found that life is duty.

BEAVER DAM, SEPT. 3, 1877.

HARTFORD, KY., SEPT. 8.

GEN. JOHN S. WILLIAMS—DEAR SIR:—We have been very much accredited and authorized by the Ohio County Fair Company to extend to you the privileges of our next annual fair, which commences the 25th of October next, and will continue five days, coupled with a request that you will favor our said company and your fellow-citizens generally, of this county with an address on the subject of agricultural and mechanical interests upon a day best suited to your convenience.

By your acceptance of and compliance with this request, you will confer a favor on our said company and your fellow-citizens of this county.

We are personally, and in behalf of said company, very respectfully, your obedient servants.

JOHN P. BARRETT, } Committee.
C. HARDWICK,
R. S. MOSLEY.

Horse Branch Letter.

HORSE BRANCH, KY., SEPT. 9.

Everything is quiet around here. Dr. M. W. Duval was thrown from his horse last Friday and was very badly hurt. His friends don't think there is any chance for his recovery. Drs. Rains and Goff think there is a little hope for his recovery yet. He has many friends and is well thought of by all who know him.

A little boy of John E. Ferguson was climbing after a squirrel last Friday, and fell about fifty or sixty feet and broke his arm in two places. (While climbing after squirrels, little boys.)

The school commenced at Salem Sept. 24, under the control of Miss Sarah Heavens, the number of scholars being twenty-five the first day. Very good for District No. 31.

We want Mr. Rowe to come up and give us a lecture before cold weather comes on.

X. Y. Z.

GREAT BARGAIN

STORE.

—O—

JUST FROM THE EAST

WITH A HAMMOTH STOCK OF

FALL AND WINTER GOODS.

—constituting of—

FANCY & STAPLE DRY GOODS

Dress Goods, Shawls,

BLANKETS, LINSEYS, JEANS,

MEN AND BOYS CLOTHING,

BOOTS AND SHOES, HATS AND CAPS,

—A Beautiful Line of—

LADIES' MISSES AND CHILDREN'S

HATS, LATEST STYLES.

—O—

See us as a Call. No Trouble to Show Goods.

L. Rosenberg & Bro.

WILL EXHIBIT AT
ROCHESTER, BUTLER CO., KY. SEPT. 22.
HARTFORD, SEPT. 24, 1877.

LIVERMORE, McLEAN CO., KY., SEPT. 25, 1877.

GREAT EUROPEAN
ZOOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION
MUSEUM,
Royal Colosseum, Aquarium

Gigantic Double Circus.

THE STANDARD SHOW OF AMERICA.

Peerless in its Appointments. Time-tried in the Crucible of Public Opinion. Matchless in Grandeur. A Veritable Volcano of Attractions. The Outgrowth of Unrivalled Wealth. The Acme of Excellence. None Equal It. Itself Its Only Parallel. Strictly First Class in all its Details. A Cornucopia of Wonders. Features the Specialties.

More Animals and Wild Beasts! More Marvels in its Museum! More Performers in the Arena! More Men and Horses! And unquestionably the finest outfit of any show in America. It is a household word. Its reputation is world-wide. Always good, but this year better than ever.

A Striking Giant Among the Pigmies!

The air, the forest, the sea, have contributed freely. A Moving Living League of Grandeur. Costly Chariots, Princely Pomp. Oriental Splendors. The only show on earth that monopolizes the Rarest Zoological Wonders obtainable.

THE ONLY LIVING
HIPPOPOTAMUS

On Exhibition in America. The Behemoth of Holy Writ.

A LIVING GIRAFFE

Twelve feet high. The only specimen of this rare exotic Antelope on this Continent.

SUMATRAN RHINOCEROS

WEIGHING TWO TONS.

LIVING SEA LIONS

Transported in Massive Iron-bound Tanks of Sea Water.

And an Endless Array of Forest Brutes, Birds and Reptiles.

A NEW DEPARTURE!

A FULL FLEDGED

ROYAL COLOSSEUM!

In which are introduced the sports and pastimes of the ancient Romans, as exemplified in the palmy days of the Roman Empire, presented in all the pomp and magnificence of Oriental Splendor and participated in by troops from

FIVE GREAT NATIONS OF THE EARTH.

WONDERFUL EGYPTIAN ATHLETES
Twelve in Number.

A TROUPE OF HINDOO JUGGLERS,
Five in Number.

THE EL NASHO ARABIAN MAMELUKES,
Fourteen in Number.

A TROUPE OF FRENCH AEROBATS & VOLTEURS,
Seven in Number.

THE SATSUMA JAPANESE,
Eight in Number.

In addition to the above and free to all the Patrons of the European Consolidated Shows, may be seen the great

EQUESTRIAN CONGRESS

AND MORAL DOUBLE CIRCUS.

The most complete exhibition of Aerie Triumphant ever attempted, embracing

Better Barrel Race, Better Loopers, Better Equilibrium, Better Postures, Better Clowns, Better Trained Horses, Better Female Riders, Better Vaulters, Better Athletes, Better Tumbler, Better Trained Dogs, Goats and Monkeys,

And the Most Elegantly Appointed

CIRCUS IN AMERICA

REMEMBER, ONE TICKET FOR
50 CENTS ADMITS TO ALL.

CHILDREN UNDER 9 YEARS, 25 CENTS.

TWO EXHIBITIONS DAILY.

Doors open at 1 and 7 P. M. Performance one hour later.

LOUISVILLE
BUSINESS DIRECTORY

Embracing the Leading Business Houses and Manufacturing Establishments in Louisville.

T. B. CRUTCHER & CO., as assessors in a horse, harness, and carriage, and a variety of other goods, 221 and 223 Main street, between 2 and 3. Orders addressed to 221 West Main street.

M. CLUNG, DRY & CO., Wholesale dealers in Boots and Shoes, Eastern and Continental, 221 and 223 Main street, between 2 and 3. Orders addressed to 221 West Main street.

ZAHN & HANKIN, A Manufacturer of Hay, Coal, Stock Platform and counter scales, Brass and iron beams, All kinds of scales and wagon shafts, &c. 223 West Main street.

W. T. PYKE, Millwright and mill fitter; all kinds of machinery; portable grist and saw mills, foot mills, bolting, &c. A variety of new and hand machinery. 427 West Main street.

CLOTHING, J. M. ARMSTRONG & SON, "Tower Palace," a new and by choice clothing, (Type for Block) No. 152 and 153 W. Jefferson St.

W. SCOTT GLOVE, Bookbinder and Stationer. General Agent Ky. Cash Distribution Co. Drawing June 20th. Tickets 10, halves 25, quarters 50. Sent for circular.

W. BENNINGER & BRO., Manufacturers and dealers in Furniture, Upholstery and Mattresses, also Carpets, Oilcloths and Window Shades. Nos. 49 and 67 West Market Street.

A. POOL & SON, Importers and Dealers in Italian Marbles, and South German Monuments, 69 W. Jefferson St. Studio and Work-shops at Carrara, Italy.

JAN. F. WHITE, Wholesale and retail dealer in Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, 104 Market Street, bet. 3rd and 4th, Louisville, Ky.

IMPROVE YOUR SIGHT, The Astigmatic, N. B. Spectacle, (faculties) usually adjusted by Dr. Louis Murrell, with its Send for pamphlet which will tell you how to get relief, 120 Main St.

ROSWELL'S HEATER AND COOKER, A great saver of fuel and a family convenience. When in use, burns no fuel, and is revolutionizing cooking and heating in homes. A. H. Shepard, 81 Fourth St. Send for circular.

D. W. MILLER & SONS, Makes the treatment of the Eye, Throat and Ear a specialty. Office, 231 W. Walnut St.

W. M. JONES & CO., Commission Merchants, wholesale dealers in Provision, Produce, Hay, Flour and Grain. No. 173 W. Main Street, Louisville, Ky.

D'ARLINGTON FURNITURE MFG CO., Manufactured of best style Maple Furniture, Mattresses, bedding and chairs. Office and Warehouse Sixty Street, between Main and Market.

W. N. BAYLESS, Manufacturer of Fine Pipe and Shirts, No. 72 4th St. Louisville. Headquarters for White Cloth Goods sent on approval.

H. H. HITT & SON, Grocers and Provision dealers, No. 72 West Market St. between Second and Third Louisville, Ky.

J. T. GATHRIGHT & CO., 281 Main St. between 7th and 8th, wholesale manufacturers of Saddles, Harness, Collars, a first-class patent Saddle and Harness. Catalogues sent on demand.

C. J. PIERCE'S, Paris Millinery House, No. 118 and 20 Fourth Avenue, ready to make, Repair and Alter all kinds of Millinery. Mournings Bonnets on York, &c. C. O. D. on approval. Send for circular.

C. J. RAIBLE, No. 104 Fourth Ave., near Market. Manufacturers of Fine, elegant, Buttons, collars, &c., and dealer in 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 34th, 35th, 36th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 41st, 42nd, 43rd, 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th, 59th, 60th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd, 64th, 65th, 66th, 67th, 68th, 69th, 70th, 71st, 72nd, 73rd, 74th, 75th, 76th, 77th, 78th, 79th, 80th, 81st, 82nd, 83rd, 84th, 85th, 86th, 87th, 88th, 89th, 90th, 91st, 92nd, 93rd, 94th, 95th, 96th, 97th, 98th, 99th, 100th, 101st, 102nd, 103rd, 104th, 105th, 106th, 107th, 108th, 109th, 110th, 111th, 112th, 113th, 114th, 115th, 116th, 117th, 118th, 119th, 120th, 121st, 122nd, 123rd, 124th, 125th, 126th, 127th, 128th, 129th, 130th, 131st, 132nd, 133rd, 134th, 135th, 136th, 137th, 138th, 139th, 140th, 141st, 142nd, 143rd, 144th, 145th, 146th, 147th, 148th, 149th, 150th, 151st, 152nd, 153rd, 154th, 155th, 156th, 157th, 158th, 159th, 160th, 161st, 162nd, 163rd, 164th, 165th, 166th, 167th, 168th, 169th, 170th, 171st, 172nd, 173rd, 174th, 175th, 176th, 177th, 178th, 179th, 180th, 181st, 182nd, 183rd, 184th, 185th, 186th, 187th, 188th, 189th, 190th, 191